ESSEX & SUFFOLK GLIDING CLUB

Gliding is the most fun and affordable way to learn to fly.

The Essex & Suffolk Gliding Club has launched a new cadet training scheme for young people ages 15 to 21, at our airfield located just outside Wormingford, Essex.

This is an exciting opportunity for a young person to learn this exhilarating sport at a very low cost. Cadets will also learn about aircraft maintenance and will take on various responsibilities around the airfield and the operations centre.

Full training is provided and the flying lessons are carried out in a two seat glider with one of our qualified instructors. Students and their parents are welcome to visit the airfield to see what gliding all is about.

About the club...

Established in the late 1950s, the club has had several sites during its life and moved to Wormingford in 1990 on the site of a former Second World War fighter base. Since moving to Wormingford, the club has grown and the facilities are the envy of many clubs around the country. We are one of the premier clubs in the East Anglia region, offering a full range of training from a Trial Lesson or Day Course, through to Solo, Bronze and Silver badges, and beyond, and of course, our new cadet scheme.

The club is a member of the British Gliding Association and operates under its rules and guidance. All of our instructors are BGA-qualified. The club operates all year round, weather permitting.

Facilities exist for every level of training in club gliders, and also for members who wish to fly their own gliders. The large club fleet consists of four two-seater gliders and four single-seater gliders and we are always striving for improvements to the fleet. All of our gliders operate with a current BGA "Certificate of Airworthiness". There are also approximately 35 privately-owned gliders on site.
